

What's on at Kingston LINC — November 2017

Kingston LINC is very pleased to welcome award-winning author Judy Nunn

Come and meet the vivacious Judy Nunn and hear about the Western Australian islands that inspired her latest novel Sanctuary.

Monday, November 20th
Kingston LINC
From 6pm

From Puggles to Penguins: My Life as a Wildlife Carer - with Cory Young

Cory Young has been helping sick and injured wildlife for over ten years. Come listen to Cory talk about his life as a wildlife carer, the animals he's met and what you can do if you find sick or injured wildlife!

Wednesday, 8th November
Kingston LINC
12noon - 1pm

Author Talk - G. S. Willmott

Acclaimed author of nine historically based novels and one non-fiction book, Garry Willmott began writing when he established "Let Them RIP" - a group set up to ensure that the remains of fallen servicemen are buried with dignity. Join us as Garry talks about his writing and his passion for military history.

Friday 10th November
Kingston LINC
11.00am

Lest We Forget

To make a booking for these events call 6165 6208
or book online with Eventbrite